The CAMPUS TODAY

By MARIAN CLAPPISON

Today's Soldiers . . .

THEIR EYES TO THE FUTURE, three kinds of soldiers work, play, and study on the TEACHERS COLLEGE campus this summer . . . Whether they're preparing for classroom duty, the Army or the Navy, their motto is the same . . . "Let us train for freedom while we fight to save it" . . .

On the cover, Jane Shannahan of Des Moines represents the future soldiers of the schoolroom; Jack Gideon, the Army Air Corps, and Ruth Grimes, the Waves . . . The picture was taken by G. H. Holmes, director of the Bureau of Publications.

Hup, Two, Three, Four! . . .

"ONE, TWO, THREE, FOUR! U. S. Air Corps!" The marching cadence of "flights" of air crew students rings over the campus these days as more than 100 future flyers for Uncle Sam drill and march to classes on the TEACHERS COLLEGE campus . . .

Seerley and Baker Halls now resound to the call-to-arms, since they've been taken over to house the boys in khaki . . . A busy staff of non-commissioned officers maintains the offices of the 80th College Training Detachment in what used to be the lounge of Seerley, and the officers have their "inner sanctum" behind the glass doors of the solarium . . . For the story of a day in the life of one of the air crew students, turn to page 16.

Campus High School Organizes Victory Corps

By Dr. N. O. Schneider

THE ORGANIZATION OF THE VICTORY CORPS as a high-school youth sector in the all-out effort of our total war, a sector manned by youth who freely volunteer for service appropriate to their experience and maturity, and who earnestly seek preparation for greater opportunities in the service which lies ahead, has been recommended by the United States Office of Education Wartime Commission.

Falling in line with these recommendations, the Teachers College High School has accepted the Victory Corps program as a pattern for its continued war efforts. Mr. H. K. Bennett of the State Department of Public Instruction, who is serving in the capacity of State Director of the Victory Corps, was also instrumental in helping get the College Campus School program under way.

A faculty committee at Teachers College High School first studied the possibilities of inaugurating the Victory Corps in the Campus High School. A report to the faculty as a whole resulted in unanimous adoption of the plan. At a later date the program was presented to the student body, and an exceptionally enthusiastic response for acceptance of the plan was registered.

For over a year, in fact before Pearl Harbor, the College High School had already carried on many war service activities through the sponsorship of the Campus School Defense Council, so the transition to the Victory Corps set-up was not too difficult to accomplish. Much credit for the initial stimulus for the Defense Council organizations belongs to Dr. Guy Wagner, director of teaching.

In order to further the war effort two main objectives have been set up for the Victory Corps: (1) The training of youth for that war service that will come after they leave school; and (2) the active participation of youth in the community's war effort while they are yet in school.

Whether curricular or extracurricular in character, the objectives of the Teachers College High School wartime program which its Victory Corps fosters and promotes are:

1. Guidance into critical services and occupations: To keep the Campus High School youth currently informed concerning the critical manpower needs of the nation in its armed forces and civilian pursuits and how to prepare for entrance into services or occupations in which critical needs

Scrap and wastepaper collections, stamp sales, and other war activities, which Campus High School pupils have been carrying on ever since Pearl Harbor, have been organized under the Victory Corps program.

exist; to encourage all pupils to choose wisely some phase of the national war effort to which they can give of themselves immediately.

2. Wartime citizenship: To strengthen and redirect the required studies in the Campus High School curriculum which are basic to citizenship training for American life; in this connection to insure a better understanding of the war, its meaning, progress, and problems.

3. Physical fitness: To strengthen and redirect the health and physical training program of the Campus High School so as to make the greatest possible number of our high-school pupils physically fit.

4. Military drill: To provide voluntary and properly conducted military drill, under sponsorship of the American Legion and State Guard officials, for prospective members of the armed forces.

5. Competence in science and mathematics: To increase the number of students studying science and mathematics courses basic to the war effort and to improve the quality of scholarship in these courses.

6. Preflight training in aeronautics: To provide special courses and activities for the preliminary training of prospective aviation cadets and ground crew maintenance men.

7. Preinduction training for critical occupations: To insure an adequate supply of young people who have some preliminary training for critical wartime occupations in the air forces, the land forces, the naval forces, and in productive civilian life; in connection with the latter to assist in meeting immediate manpower shortage which exist within our local community through part-time work-and-school programs.

8. Community services: To prepare selected young people for work in essential service occupations of civilian life, including business, homemaking, and the professions; in this connection to prepare our young people to render immediate volunteer service in civilian defense, care of young children, home nursing, and other service activities requiring some initial training.

Organization of the Corps

The author of this article holds the title of War Service Director of the Teachers College High School Victory Corps and he is charged with the general direction of the program. He is assisted by the deputy director, Dr. Erma Plaehn, who is in charge of the regular social science program of the high school. Dr. Plaehn also serves as War Service Librarian for the Victory Corps.

The director serves as the chairman of the Faculty Advisory Committee, and he also works with the Community Advisory Committee. The Faculty Advisory Committee sees that the Victory Corps program and functions are tied in with the school curriculum and the activity program of the school. Members of this committee also serve as counselors and as consultants for the various service divisions. The members are Mr. C. L. Jackson, principal of the Teachers College High School; Dr. Myrtle Stone director of the commerce department, and Mr. J. M. Rhodes, instructor in natural sciences.

The Community Advisory Committee is composed of community leaders who are actively engaged in community war services. They are: Dr. Carl Erbe, member of the Chamber of Commerce war activities committee; John Leavitt, American Legion commander; Dr. H. A. Riebe, advisor to Iowa State Teachers College students for enlistment and reserve program; Reno Reeve, attorney

Each of the six membership divisions of the Victory Corps has its own insignia. On the opposite page are the general membership badge, the production service division, and the land service division. Below are the community service, sea service, and air service emblems.

and director in community Boy Scout work, and Mrs. T. J. Mentzer, chairman of the local Red Cross war activities program.

The Campus High School Victory Corps Council is made up of high school students and faculty members. The students are chairmen of the various service divisions, and the faculty are advisors in each of these divisions.

Membership Divisions

The Teachers College High School Victory Corps, following the national pattern, is set up with a general student membership main group and five special service divisions. These five divisions are: Air Service Division, Land Service Division, Sea Service Division, Production Service Division, and the Community Service Division. Members of each group wear the special insignia of that division. In order to join as a general member in the Victory Corps a student makes a formal application on a printed blank provided for that purpose. The basis for general membership is as follows:

1. The student should be participating in the school physical fitness program appropriate to his abilities and needs in the light of his probable contribution to the nation's war effort.

2. The student should be studying or have studied school courses appropriate to his age, grade, ability, and probable immediate and future usefulness to the nation's war effort, within the limits of the facilities of the school.

3. The student should be currently participating in at least one important continuing or recurring wartime activity or service of the types indicated in the suggestive list of Victory Corps service activities. These are: air warden, firewatcher, or other civilian defense activity, U. S. O. volunteer activities, Red Cross services, scale model airplane building, participation in health services, such as malaria control, farm aid, or other part-time employment to meet manpower shortages, and school-home-community services, such as salvage campaigns, care of small children of working mothers, gardening, book collection, etc.

Upon acceptance for general membership the student is privileged to wear the general insignia of the Victory Corps, which is a red V. This may be worn as an arm band or on an appropriate overseas cap.

Students who have been accepted for general membership in the Victory Corps may be organized into the special service divisions. Because of the special requirements for these special service divisions enrollment is usually limited to the junior or senior years of school.

Requirements for membership in the special services divisions are strict. For example, in order to qualify for membership in the air service division of the Victory Corps, the students must be planning and have begun preliminary preparation for service in the armed forces as aviation cadets or as aircraft repair and maintenance workers. Evidence of such plans and preparation will be at least three of the following:

- A. Must have pursued or be pursuing a program which includes one year of high-school physics and three years of high-school mathematics.

- B. Must have pursued or be pursuing a course in preflight aeronautics.

- C. Must have pursued or be pursuing a course in automotive mechanics, radio, electricity, or a vocational shop course which gives preliminary preparation for the servicing, maintenance or repair of aircraft.

- D. Must be participating in a program of physical fitness. (Required of all members of this division.)

- E. Must be participating in a program of military drill.

Requirements for membership in the other special divisions are similar to those for the Air Service Division.

Certificates Are Awarded

In order to give special recognition to qualified students the Victory Corps Council of Teachers College High School has designed certificate awards and presents them at the end of each semester during a special assembly program. Each certificate is superimposed by the appropriate insignia in colors of red, white and blue.

In our opinion, the Victory Corps organization at Teachers College High School will help coordinate and make a real contribution to the war effort and in turn better prepare our students for their places on the war and the home front.

THE CAMPUS TODAY

The Service Flag . . .

IMPRESSIVE REMINDER OF T. C.'s active part in the war, the service flag bears the number 1,079 now . . . Dedicated on Armistice Day last year, the five by seven foot emblem hangs in the first floor hall of the Administration Building outside of the president's office . . . Students showing their parents around the college point to it with pride—"That's our service flag."

Robinson Heads English . . .

WHILE DR. H. WILLARD RENINGER is on duty with the Naval Reserve, Dr. E. Arthur Robinson, a member of the department of English faculty for nine years, has assumed temporarily the duties of the head of the department . . .

Dr. Robinson has been adviser to students majoring in English for the last two years . . . has taught mostly in the field of contemporary novel courses . . . He received the bachelor of arts degree from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1932, the master of arts degree from Ohio State University in 1933 and the doctor of philosophy degree from the same institution in 1936.

Dr. Robinson

Six 'All-Americans' . . .

"ALL-AMERICAN—1943" was the rating awarded to THE COLLEGE EYE by the Associated Collegiate Press this year . . . This marks the sixth consecutive time that THE EYE has won this honor . . .

"All-American" is the highest rating given in the annual contest, and THE EYE was one of nine papers in its class to receive this ranking . . . Scores are based on make-up, writing, choice of news, editing, and other factors . . . This year THE EYE received special recognition for its service in covering of the college war effort.

Henrikson Resigns Post . . .

DR. E. H. HENRIKSON, associate professor of speech for the past six years at TEACHERS COLLEGE is resigning his position here this summer . . . He has been appointed speech pathologist and voice scientist at the University of Denver, Denver, Colo., and will assume his new duties in the fall . . .

During his years on this campus, Dr. Henrikson has taught fundamentals of speech and speech correction in the college and also the campus training school . . . Much of his time has been spent doing extension work in this field among the grade and high schools in Iowa . . . He has published numerous articles on speech correction and is author of the book, "Fundamentals of Public Speaking."

Scholarship Has Its Day . . .

SCHOLASTICALLY SUPERIOR SENIORS . . . those with a grade point average of three or better . . . were given special recognition for their academic achievements at the eleventh annual Recognition Day program May 12 . . . Members of all honorary groups on the campus were also honored at the all-college assembly sponsored by the Student Council . . .

The senior three-pointers are: Marjorie Bothel of Monona, Virgil Boyd of Livermore, Shirley Cleveland of Cedar Falls, Doris Dean of Marshalltown, Wayne Ebert of Blainstown, Iolita Ersland of Des Moines, Connie Hoffman of Worthington, Minn., Lucille Houston of Dunlap, Ruth Erlene Johnson of Union, Mary Ella Jones of Ira, Robert Kadesch of Cedar Falls, Roberta Kennedy of Rolfe, Olive Lillhei of Cedar Falls, Donald MacRae of Eldora, Phyllis Malmanger of Story City, Mildred Middleton of Cedar Falls, Alma Ruth Morris of Chariton, Elizabeth Oldenburg of Eldora, Phyllis Ruppelt of Steamboat Rock, Peggy Sage of Waterloo, Leo Solt of Waterloo, William Walsh of Bristow, and Janet Zuck of Waterloo . . .

New members of Torch and Tassel, senior women's honorary fraternity, are Jean Broshar of Waterloo, Irvine Farnsworth of Primghar, Bette Gibson of Waterloo, and Virginia Macy of Grundy Center . . . Membership in the group is based on scholarship, leadership, and extra-curricular activities.

Wellborn Writes Text . . .

"THE GROWTH OF AMERICAN NATIONALITY, 1492-1865"—that's the title of a new textbook in history written by Professor Fred W. Wellborn, used last year in the classes of the social science department at TEACHERS COLLEGE . . .

Professor Wellborn

"I can easily see why the publishers nominate it for the Pulitzer prize," said Professor M. R. Thompson, head of the department of social science, when the book was published . . . "It has about everything in it—perfection in details of publishing. Nothing is lacking; the style is original, the maps and illustrations are new and different. Both Dr. and Mrs. Wellborn have given much of the last ten years for it" . . .

Dr. Wellborn, associate professor of history, had been at work on his text for the greater part of the last ten years and actually began writing the book in April of 1938.

Mildred Holly Resigns . . .

MISS MILDRED HOLLY, managing editor of THE ALUMNUS for the past year, resigned her position as assistant in the Bureau of Publications in March to become the bride of Robert McGranahan, formerly sports editor of THE ALUMNUS and also assistant in the publications office . . . Miss Holly came to TEACHERS COLLEGE in 1938 and last summer succeeded Private McGranahan, now with the army somewhere in Australia, as assistant in the office . . .

Miss Marian Clappison, a graduate of the University of Iowa, is the new managing editor of the alumni magazine and began her work as assistant to the director of publications, G. H. Holmes, May 1.

Faculty Publish Textbook . . .

"METHODS OF TEACHING IN TOWN AND RURAL SCHOOLS," a recently published book by Prof. Lou A. Shepherd and Dr. E. L. Ritter, members of the TEACHERS COLLEGE faculty, is rapidly being adopted by teacher training instructors throughout the country and has been accepted by the Kansas State Board of Education for use in its schools . . .

The book, 500 pages of practical teaching methods and techniques, is the result of study and experience by its authors in counseling the teachers of Iowa schools through the TEACHERS COLLEGE extension division . . . It was published by the Dryden Press, Inc.

Miss Lambert Resigns . . .

Miss Lillian V. Lambert has resigned from her position as professor of English emeritus, effective at the end of the spring quarter . . .

Her resignation terminates 36 years of service on the Teachers College faculty . . . She has held the position of professor emeritus since 1938 . . .

Miss Lambert

Miss Lambert received the bachelor of philosophy and master of philosophy degrees from the University of Chicago . . . She has taken advanced work at Bryn Mawr, Columbia University, and Oxford University, England.

'Aud' Has Its Face Lifted . . .

"THERE'S NO REASON WHY we should paint everything else and leave our parlor dingy," said Professor Herbert V. Hake, director of KXEL, last spring . . . "Since this room is used so much for public performances," he went on, "it seems to me that it needs 'personality.'"

No sooner said than done . . . the "aud" received a new coat of paint, and the walls, and the floor of the stage were painted . . . The drapes were taken down, cleaned and re-dyed . . . It fairly sparkles with "personality" now.

Service Men's Directory

Here's the second installment of the Teachers College Service Men's Directory, being compiled by the Bureau of Alumni Service.

The first installment, published in the April ALUMNUS, contained a section of service men for each alphabetical division. This list does the same. Additions and corrections to the directory will be published in the October ALUMNUS.

New names, additions, corrections and addresses will be welcomed by the Bureau of Alumni Service.

ROLL OF HONOR

ANDREW ROEDER

Lieut. (jg) Andrew Roeder, B.A. '38, of Rockwell, Iowa, was killed when his plane crashed February 6, 1943, near New Orleans, La. He was in the Naval Air Corps at Pensacola, Fla.

While enrolled at TEACHERS COLLEGE, he was a member of Alpha Chi Epsilon fraternity and Blue Key, men's national honor fraternity. Before enlisting in the Navy Air Corps in 1940, he was an instructor in the National Business College in Sioux City. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roeder, and one brother, Morton, survive.

FRANKLIN JASPERS

Word has been received of the death of Franklin Jaspers, a student at TEACHERS COLLEGE in 1933 and 1934. He was killed while serving with the army in the South Pacific area on November 26, 1942. His home was in Wellsburg, Iowa.

JAMES Q. IRWIN

While serving with the U. S. Army Air Forces in North Africa, Lieut. James Quentin Irwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Irwin of Cedar Falls, was killed in an airplane crash on April 23. Lieutenant Irwin, known to many former students as "Bud," was an aerial photographer.

He attended TEACHERS COLLEGE from the fall of 1937 to the spring of 1939 and was a graduate of Audubon, Iowa, High School. After his schooling here, he attended the University of Iowa and entered the army in 1941. Besides his widow, the former Margaret Hrabak of Iowa City, his parents, one sister, and the paternal grandparents survive.

Civilian Soldiers . . .

They're not in uniform, but they're doing their bit for Uncle Sam just like any soldier, sailor, or marine. Many are teaching the men in blue and khaki, others are working with the Red Cross or the USO. Whatever their job, you may be sure it's an important one, and they're doing it well.

Correction, additions, and new names for this list will be welcomed by the Bureau of Alumni Service from whose files it was compiled.

Army Trains Future Flyers on the Campus

Captain Julian T. Leonard is commanding officer of the 80th College Training Detachment of the Army Air Corps stationed at Teachers College. He's shown in his office in Seerley Hall.

Learning to swim under the direction of Clyde L. Starbeck in the men's gymnasium pool are a group of air crew students, one of several classes in physical fitness.

JOE COLLEGE DOESN'T LIVE AT SEERLEY OR BAKER HALL anymore. He's been replaced by Soldier Joe, one of more than 100 men in khaki who are learning mathematics, physics, and geography, among other things, from T. C. professors to prepare them to become aviation cadets in the Army Air Forces.

The air crew students moved in in March for five months of preliminary training, physical conditioning and indoctrination into the customs and courtesies of the service. Commanding officer of the contingent is Captain Julian T. Leonard.

Campus life is not a new story to most of these men, for before they donned the uniform of the Army Air Corps, they were members of the college Enlisted Reserve Corps, signed up for aviation cadet training. Before they were sent to Cedar Falls, the home of the 80th College Training Detachment, they had some basic training at a replacement center, and after they're sent from here, they'll go to a reclassification center where, on the basis of their grades, general record, and background, they'll be classified as pilots, bombardiers, or navigators.

Professor James DeJonge of the Teachers College music faculty instructs a group of Army Air Corps men in the intricacies of physics.

Eventually they'll receive commissions as second lieutenants, but first they'll have primary, basic, and advanced courses in their field.

Routine for the air crew student means falling out of bed at 5:15 and answering reveille roll call fifteen minutes later. Between 5:30 and the first class at 7 o'clock, he must have his room ready for inspection, his clothes properly cared for and breakfast eaten.

Here, living four in a room has proved to be an advantage for these men, as it has for people on other parts of the campus. Work can be divided—one man mops the floor, while another cleans the lavatory and mirror. Each man makes his own bed, Army style, with no wrinkles.

From 7 through four more hours, the air corps students are in classes, drilling, or being "toughened" under the direction of members of the physical education staff. Music faculty professors with training in science are teaching them physics; a biology professor is instructing them in civil air regulations.

Eleven o'clock! That's time to eat, and after "mess" comes the first mail call of the day, and

The Commons is a busy place these days since after these air crew students have finished "mess" there, the Waves will eat in the same dining room.

Eldon Archambault, George Clark, Carl Dresselhaus, Kenneth Herman, and Winford Beers, former T. C. students, found themselves "back in their own back yard" when they joined the Army.

Physics and physical education don't occupy all of the air crew student's time. "Rec" dancing in the Commons or a coke with a T. C. coed help to fill it, too.

The click of pool balls is still a familiar sound in the Seerley "rec" room, but now it's the boys in khaki who are behind the cue.

a few minutes relaxation for the busy air crew student. Afternoon classes and drill begin at 12:30 and last until 4:20 (16:20, Army time). At that hour, you may see the entire contingent assembled on the campus in front of Seerley and Baker for "retreat" formation.

Mess call comes again at 4:55, and after supper, the future flyers return again to Seerley and Baker Halls for the second mail call of the day. Supervised study begins at 6:30 and lasts until 7:30 every night except Saturday and Sunday.

Free Time Is Precious

Little explanation is needed for the time between 7:30 and 9—that's free time, an hour and a half in which to have a coke with the co-ed he met last week or to relax in the Commons. Call to quarters sounds at 9 o'clock, and 9:15 spells the end of a day of army routine for the air corps student and the beginning of eight hours of sleep.

Under the supervision of the Civil Aeronautics Association, the air crew students receive ten hours of dual flying instruction at the Livingston Airways in Waterloo before they're "shipped out." For many, it's their first time up, an exciting preview for what's to come.

"Courses designed to eliminate washouts"—that's the explanation that the Army assigns to its college training program. The training that the future cadets receive here includes physics, to give the potential pilot a knowledge of the forces that are at play in making his machine the precision instrument it is, mathematics, geography, history, English, and an elective. The electives include navigation, aerodynamics, and aircraft identification.

Of the five months of training the Army men receive here, a minimum of 120 hours of physical fitness is required. The air crew student's schedule calls for an hour of physical education each day, six days a week. Calisthenics take a top place in the physical fitness program; one day a week is devoted to aquatic activities. Men will be taught to swim with heavy packs on their backs. Cross country running in the military track program is also emphasized. Bodily contact activities, such as football, soccer, boxing, etc., are excluded to avoid finger injuries.

T. C. Faculty Are Instructors

Proving their versatility in adapting themselves to a new routine, more than one-sixth of the TEACHERS COLLEGE faculty are devoting either full or part-time service to the instruction of the air crew students.

Men and women of the faculty who are giving this service include: Roy Abbott, who teaches civil air regulations; Alison Aitchison and Marguerite Uttley, instructors in geography; E. J. Cable, meteorology; James DeJonge, Frank Hill, Selmer C. Larson, E. A. Ralston, H. Earl Rath, Myron Russell, and M. J. Wilcox, physics; Arthur Dickinson, L. L. Mendenhall, and Clyde L. Starbeck, physical training; W. B. Fagan, F. W. Lambertson, and E. A. Robinson, English; Maude Moore, medical aid; H. G. Palmer, aerodynamics; George C. Robinson and Ralph Fahrney, history, and H. C. Trimble, Henry Van Engen, and E. E. Watson, mathematics.

Dean of Faculty M. J. Nelson is devoting time to the program in a supervisory capacity.

Service Men Say . . .

From "Merrie" England . . .

DEAR EDITOR: It was a very pleasant surprise to receive THE ALUMNUS . . . You can imagine what it means to us fellows in the service to get a glimpse of the continuing highlights taking place back there at I. S. T. C. and the latest news of those who are now in the service.

Merrie olde England is a long haul from the fields of Iowa. They do just about everything different from us from driving on the "wrong" side of the road to eating off the back of a fork, juggling it in the left hand. You must try it sometime! (Only don't—it's a one way ticket to the insane asylum.)

My fiancée, Shirley Henrickson, '39-'42, has been teaching radio theory for the past eight months at the Sioux Falls Army Air Base at Sioux Falls, S. D., and we plan to be married just as soon as I hit the good old U. S. A. again.

Here's to President Price, all the faculty, and you for the fine job you are doing.—SGT. R. C. CAWELTI, '38-'39, c/o Postmaster, N. Y.

From New Guinea . . .

DEAR EDITOR: Never too busy to enjoy another issue of THE ALUMNUS. Literature is at a premium in New Guinea.—TECH. SGT. ORVAL NIELSEN, El. '39, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco.

T. C.-ers Get Together . . .

DEAR EDITOR: I am receiving THE ALUMNUS regularly and enjoy it a great deal. I was glad to have the list of men now in the service.

During my time in Texas, I have frequently seen John D. Brown, '35-'37, and we both have spent many hours in fond remembrance of our days in college.—SGT. TOM M. ORR, B.A. '39, Hq. Co., 342 Infantry, APO 450, Camp Howze, Tex.

Dear Readers . . .

To facilitate the sorting of mail, the post office department has divided larger cities into zones. If you live in such a city, please send your zone number to the Bureau of Alumni Affairs, so that it may be added to your address before the next issue of THE ALUMNUS is published.

Don't forget to notify the bureau of changes of address either.

Bailey Resigns Position . . .

AFTER 38 YEARS OF SERVICE as head of the industrial arts department, Professor Charles H. Bailey, has resigned his duties as head of the arts and industrial arts department.

His resignation became effective with the opening of the summer quarter, and Harold G. Palmer, assistant professor of industrial arts since 1939, has assumed the duties of acting head of the department. Professor Bailey, who was appointed head of the department in 1905, will retain the rank of professor and continue as a member of the teaching staff of the college.

Professor Bailey

Before coming a member of the TEACHERS COLLEGE faculty, Professor Bailey was director of manual training at James Millikan University, Decatur, Ill. He also has been inspector and superintendent of construction with Crellin and Lovell, an engineering firm in Des Moines, and from 1897 to 1902 was superintendent of manual training in the Iowa City, Iowa, public schools.

He received the bachelor of science degree in civil engineering from the University of Iowa in 1895 and the bachelor of science degree from Columbia University in 1903, when he also received the manual training diploma from the Columbia Teachers College. He has taken advanced work at Cornell University.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Glenn Wesp (Clarice Ellefson, J. C. '27) live at 1363 Reece St., San Bernardino, Calif. Mr. Wesp is employed by the Southern California Gas. Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fox (Fern Bappe, Kg. '28) live on a farm near Odebolt, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Johnson (Helen M. Hoskins, B.A. '28) live on a farm north of Cromwell, Iowa. Mrs. Johnson taught in Louisa and Adair counties before her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Till (Helen A. Sailer, Pri. '28) are living at 507 N. Eastwood, Mt. Prospect, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Morgan (Jesse Storie), B.S. '29 and B.A. '28, respectively, are living in White Mountain, Alaska, where they teach in an Eskimo school. They are employed by the Office of Indian Affairs of the Department of Interior.

Gilbert Grummon, B.A. '30, lives with his wife and five-year-old son, Glenn, at 706 N. E. 2nd St., Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Krueger (Gertrude J. Grisier, B.A. '30) are living at 722 Kingsporte Lane, Maple Terrace, LaPorte, Ind. They have two sons.

Dr. and Mrs. Grant MacKenzie (Katherine Edmonds, Kg. '30) are living at 9 Danvers Lane in Dearborn, Mich., where Dr. MacKenzie is a dentist. Mrs. MacKenzie received the B.S. degree from Michigan Normal college and taught in Dearborn for 11 years before her marriage.

Mrs. Louis Maifeld (Evelyn Schneider), El. '30, is living in Vancouver, Wash. Her address: Apt. 351, Ogden Meadows.

Death Ends Wright Family's Long Association With I. S. T. C.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. D. S. WRIGHT, widow of the professor who taught the first class at IOWA STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, then the Iowa State Normal School, were held April 11 in Cedar Falls. Mrs. Wright, who was 87 years of age, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. J. Swanson of Red Oak, Iowa, on April 8, 1943.

The Wright family had been associated with TEACHERS COLLEGE from its founding, and in the sixty-five years of its life, Mrs. Wright had missed only two commencements. Her husband had the longest term of service to the college as a teacher, having taught from 1876 until 1929. He died on Oct. 30, 1931, at the age of 83.

Mrs. Wright's maiden name was Eliza Jane Rawstern. The daughter of Margaret and Samuel Rawstern, she was born April 20, 1856, at Garna-villo, Iowa. She attended the Hazel Dell Academy for girls at Newton, Iowa, for some time and then entered Iowa State Normal School in the fall of 1877.

Eliza Jane Rawstern graduated from I. S. N. S. on June 24, 1880. That evening at 8 o'clock she was married to one of her professors at the college,

D. S. Wright, who was eight years older than she. The service took place in what is now the music building, with the president of the college, J. C. Gilchrist, officiating.

Soon after her marriage, she affiliated with the community church on the hill, which had just been founded. And for years the Wright home was the center of social gatherings of the older alumni and professors of the college.

Mrs. Wright was very active socially in Cedar Falls. In the 80's and 90's, both she and her husband were members of the Parlor Reading Circle. She was also a member of the Tuesday Club for nearly 50 years and a member of the garden section of the Federated Women's Clubs in Cedar Falls.

Four children, Professor Luella Wright of Iowa City, Joseph Wright of Tucson, Ariz., Mrs. W. C. Ratcliff and Mrs. R. J. Swanson of Red Oak, and seven grandchildren survive. The Rev. Gerald E. Knoff, director of the bureau of religious activities at the college, conducted the funeral services, and burial was in the family lot in Fairview Cemetery, Cedar Falls.

Spreads with the "gang" instead of a movie with Bill or Dick are more the rule among T. C. Coeds now since there's such a scarcity of men . . . Writing to him and reading over his letters is a favorite pastime too.

Seerley Joins the Service

In front of these doors, a small blue and yellow sign reading "Headquarters, Army Air Forces College Training Detachment, I. S. T. C.," is the only outward indication that a change has taken place in Seerley Hall, except when its new residents are hurrying out to answer reveille or returning to "quarters." Gone for the duration are the wearers of the purple and gold as far as Seerley and Baker are concerned . . . Army khaki has taken their place.
